FROM OUR PASTOR

DEAR FRIENDS IN CHRIST-

Only Naaman the Syrian was cured. When Our Lord tells His Jewish brethren this story from the book of Kings, He is almost cast out and killed on the spot. Naaman the Syrian was a Gentile. In this pericope, we see a glimpse of the resurrection and the virgin birth at Christmas.

“He passes through the midst of them.”

How does Jesus momentarily avoid being thrown off the cliff headlong? It is for this moment that He shows forth His divinity and His perfected humanity. If we remember, one of the aspects of the glorified body subtly. Subtly enables the resurrected body to not be subject to space and time. We see this again in the Gospel of St. John when Jesus meets His disciples after the resurrection and passes through the locked doors. In this Christmas cycle, we see this in the perpetual virginity of the Blessed Virgin Mary—He passes through her like light through a prism as the Church fathers relate. In other words, this is not a natural birth. And neither is this episode a natural event—if so, the crowd would have been easily able to lay hands on the Lord and murder Him then. We rejoice at the words that were spoken in the synagogue—for Jesus brings us this same gift by our baptism and strengthens us through devout reception of Holy Communion that we may become like Him who is risen.

As a reminder:

Please sign up for adoration of the Blessed Sacrament this week! We have done so well with adoring the Lord. Let’s keep up the good attitude and openness to allowing Jesus to change our lives and to change our parish. It’s a wonderful opportunity if you have not experienced it before.
